PASADENA MAN AS DIRECTOR.

FURTHER STEPS TAKEN TO HASTEN OPENING OF FED-ERAL RESERVE BANK.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Further steps to hasten the opening of the Federal reserve banks were taken today by the Federal Reserve Board
when it announced the class C of Federal directors of the San Francisco and Dallas banks.

They are: San Francisco, John Perrin, Pasadena, Cal., Federal reserve agent and chairman of the board of directors; Claude Gatch, San Francisco, deputy agent and vice-chairman, and Charles E. Peabody, Seattle, director.

Dallas: E. O. Tension, Dallas, reserve agent and board chairman; W.
F. McCabe, San Antonio, deputy agent and vice-chairman, and Felix Martinez, El Paso, director.

The board tonight received a telegram from Pierre Jay, chairman of the board of directors of the New York bank, that Benjamin Strong, Jr.,
New York, had been elected governor of that bank.

No time has yet been set for the call to be issued by the Comptroller of the Currency for the first payment of subscriptions by member banks to the capital stock of their reserve banks.
The board probably will be consulted before this step is taken. No formal action has been taken by the board to fix the opening date for any or all of the banks.

COPPER SHIPMENTS.
England will not Molest Foreign Consignments Provided They are not Intended for Germany.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—American copper shipments to neutral countries will not be molested by British ships
when covered by an understanding between shippers and consignees that they are for domestic use only. This was made known here today after a conference between Secretary Bryan
and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador.

The ambassador expressed the approval of his government of the suggestion of American copper exporters that cargoes enroute Holland may or other nonbelligerent countries be shipped under the restriction that they would be used in those countries and not exported.

Secretary Bryan at once set to work
to obtain from Holland, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland agreements that copper imported from the United States would not be re-exported. These guarantees will be accepted by Great Britain. It is believed the neutral countries will not hesitate to approve the plan, which is similar to that already arranged with Holland with regard to foodstuffs.

Senator Reed, Democrat of Utah, who discussed the matter at the State Department on behalf of copper interests, said the arrangement would be entirely satisfactory to copper producers.

The willingness of Great Britain to allow copper to be exported to Italy
was taken in quarters to indicate complete confidence that Italy
would not join Germany and Austria
in making war on the allies.

ISLAND TRADE Dwindles.
Philippines Show Falling Off in Both Imports and Exports but Mach Activity Indicated.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Both the import and export trade of the Philippines show a decline for the year ending June 30, last, compared with the previous year, according to customs returns of the islands, received by the Bureau of Insular Affairs and made public today.

Imports amounted to $56,011,570, against $56,127,543 in 1913, and exports, $51,238,048, compared with $53,683,324. Though imports were slightly below the preceding year, there was a substantial increase in the general trade of the islands, the smaller total being due to greatly reduced foreign purchases of rice following larger local production. The reduced export total reflected the continuing effect of the drought and typhoons of 1913 on the production of cocoa and hemp and reduced American demand for the Philippine cigar.

Trade with the United States continued to increase and constituted over half of all imports and 43 per cent of all exports.

Growing activity of the islands is indicated by the fact that imports of sugar machinery, structural iron and steel, steel rails, corrugated roofing
and cement showed marked increases.
The $3,000,000 trade in cotton cloth was increasingly with the United States. American textiles representing about 75 per cent. A large value in cotton yarns and knit goods than heretofore recorded was characterized by the distinct lead credited to Japanese products.

While the quantity of hemp exported was 130,774 long tons, the smallest since 1898, it yielded $22,375,106, the largest value since American occupation. Exports of copper shrank from the maximum of 166,667 long tons in 1912, to 70,322 in 1914 and resulted in a value of only half the $16,000, 000 total of that year. Exports of sugar amounted to 209,606 long tons,
the largest on record.

ANTI-TRUST BILL GOES THROUGH.

Measure Passed by Senate
after a Hot Fight.

But it Failed to Get Support of All the Democrats.

House is Expected to Ratify with Brief Debate.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The administration anti-trust programme was completed in the Senate late today when the conference report on the Clayton anti-trust bill was agreed to by a vote of thirty-five to twenty-four. The Senate voted down a motion by Senator Reed of Missouri to recommit the bill to conference. Senator Reed's motion contemplated the reinstatement of criminal penalties for violations of sections specifying methods of competition declared unlawful.

The conference report will now go to the House, where its adoption with but brief debate is expected.

Three Democrats voted against the report, Senators Lane, Martine and Reed. Six Democrats voted for the Reed motion to recommit. They were Senators Lane, Martine, Reed, Thomas, Vardaman and Williams.

Senator Root was the only Republican who voted against the motion.
Senator Polinder, Progressive, voted against both the Reed motion and the motion to agree.

The vote was taken at the close of a long day of bitter debate on the bill, in the course of which Senator Walsh, Republican of Idaho, declared the administration trade commission bill had committed Congress to a policy of prevention of minor restraints of trade by the commission.
Instead of criminal prosecution for such offenses, Senator Reed insisted that the law would be utterly ineffective without the "teeth" which criminal penalties would supply.

As finally agreed to, the bill forbids
price discrimination, limits interlocking directors and prohibits holding companies where the effect is "to destroy or substantially lessen competition." The bill also declares that "the labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce" and exempts labor and farmers' unions
from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law. It revises the law regulating contempt of court and the use of injunctions in labor disputes, making reforms long demanded by organized labor.

VIRGINIA HOME
OF PRESIDENTS.
THE OWNER OFFERS THOMAS
JEFFERSON'S PLACE AS SUM-MER WHITE HOUSE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson,
should be maintained as "the Virginia home of the Presidents," in the opinion of its owner, Representative
Levey of New York, who notified Secretary Bryan today that he would consider an offer of $500,000 for the purchase of the estate by the government. His communication will be referred to Congress.

"I have always abhorred the thought of Monticello becoming a mere museum," Mr. Levey's letter to Secretary Bryan says.

"I have maintained this as a home—
the home of Thomas Jefferson—and if I am to part with it, I should like that thought to be retained. Make this the home—the Virginia home—of the Presidents of the United States and maintain it for their occasional occupancy and I would be content."

CAPITAL GETS THE CRUST.
The Rest of it Goes to Meet Government Demands and Union-Labor Repression Ripley Says.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—"Between the repressive forces of government and the demands of organized labor, it is evident that the sum remaining as the share of invested capital is in serious danger," remarks E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company in his annual report made public here today.

He adds that under these conditions
the road will make no additions or betterments, however desirable, unless they can be paid for out of current earnings.

Gross earnings for the fiscal year
were $111,109,769 and the net revenue from operation, $37,640,436, or $1,592,271 less than for the previous year. Taxes increased $863,433. In commenting on this Mr. Ripley observed that in the last year taxes have increased 18 per cent, while the investment has increased only 40 per cent.

ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS FOR ALL PAIN

"The efficiency of any drug" says Dr. C. P.
Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the most common of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to for relief. We can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely is Anti-Kamnia Tablets. Many have used them and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed.
I found them especially valuable for headaches of material origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Antikamnia Tablets are also excellent for headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neural type, and especially for women subject to pains at certain times. Two Anti-Kamnia Tablets give prompt relief and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual. These tablets may be obtained at all drug stores for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuritis and all pains.

MOLD CHARACTER IN THE SCHOOLS.

TEACHER SHOULD BE RESPON-

EXPERTS SAY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 5.—That the public school system of the country should be used to prevent crime was the opinion expressed by speakers before the American Prison Association in convention today. It delegates.

"It is a statistical fact that 93 per cent of juvenile offenders begin delinquency in the schools," declared D.
C. Peyton, superintendent of the Jeffersville (Ind.) Reformatory. "The schools should mold the characters of our children and be responsible for their futures."

CITY CAR LINE IS LOSING MONEY.

TWO DIVISIONS OF THE SEATTLE
SYSTEM SHOW GREAT FAIL-ING OFF.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SEATTLE (Wash.), Oct. 5.—The report of Superintendent of Public Utilities Valentine on the total receipts of division A and division C, or the Lake Burien line of the municipal street railway system for the month of September shows a decrease of $732 as compared with the revenues for the preceding month.
The Lake Burien line shows the greatest drop in revenues for the month.

Freight and passenger receipts on the Lake Burien line for August were $1888. This month those two items of revenue brought only $1277. Receipts in August on division A were $1423 and in September, $1407.

The municipal railroad property was operated at a loss of almost $2000 a month during the summer months. The decrease in receipts in the fall, due to lighter passenger travel, owing to retirement of camp-

CHILD WELFARE GETS SETBACK.

INACTIVITY OF ORGANIZATION IS CLEARLY SHOWN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Oct. 5.—
Human societies for the care of children have decreased in number during the last year from 313 to 307,
while societies devoted to the protection of animals have increased from 180 to 191, according to reports submitted today at the opening of the annual convention of the American Humane Association.

The number of children cared for by the societies last year was 191,964, as compared to 177,747 during the previous year. The number of animals that received attention by the societies devoted to them increased from 2,529,186 to 4,345,707.

G. H. Scott, secretary of the Illinois Humane Society, deplored the fact that many organizations for the elfare of children are inactive,
while those that specialize in the protection of animals are energetic in securing the enforcement of the laws.
During the discussion of a paper on
"Have Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Outlived Their Usefulness?" President Stillman declared that political influences are being exerted against us "when we conflict with the powerful forces
using children in mills and factories."

THAT GUGGENHEIM CASE.

Court Orders Mrs. Wahl to Testify in Disbarment Proceedings Against Her Former Attorney.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Unwilling though she be, Mrs. Grace Brown-Herbert-Guggenheim-Wahl must answer the questions put to her by Einar Christy, representing the New York Bar Association in disbarment proceedings brought against Louis Werner, formerly her attorney.
Mrs. Wahl objected on the grounds that her answers might incriminate her. Werner was her attorney in the suit which resulted in the divorce from William Guggenheim. Because of irregularities in his conduct of the case the Bar Association took action against him, and sent for Mrs. Wahl's deposition.
Judge Sturtevant of the Superior Court ruled today that the questions must be answered.

Force French to Retreat.

ain have been used up in the expedition except the coast garrisons. This force of 26,000 men was probably reduced by losses, in sick, wounded and killed, to about 200,000. For her second expeditionary force Great Britain has three sources on which to draw.

From these sources Great Britain must by now have gathered in well over 100,000 experienced soldiers available to form a new expeditionary army to be launched against the German flank by the short route via the channel, in which maneuver England's strategic position and the British control of the sea entered to the marked advantage of the allies. Rumors of the dispatch of this army to the front started ten days ago and it is probable this army is now approaching the German lines between Arras and the Belgian border.

The still further extension of the line of the allies needed if they wish to relieve the pressure on Antwerp. The French are making every effort to push forward troops around to this extreme flank. It is not unlikely that Great Britain will be tempted to cut short the camp training of her first volunteers and even of the territorials in order to rush an army into Belgium via Ostend.

Despite the Belgian denial, it is believed that the Germans have succeeded in reducing the three forts of the Antwerp defenses that lie on the left flank of the city. The loss of the three forts weakens the defense, but does not by any means make probable the capture of the city. The British are now on the verge of a battle. It is hardly likely that this contingent amounts to the 100,000 men in some of the reports. It is very unlikely that the contingent now in France exceeds one army corps of 55,000 men.

AIRSHIPS VISIBLE THROUGH THE FOG.

LONDON BELIEVES SEARCHLIGHTS WILL SCARE THE ZEPPELIN AWAY.
[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]
LONDON, Sept. 25.—Tests over London last night proved that searchlights can detect a Zeppelin even in foggy weather. Incidentally the populace derived great amusement from the experiments.

It was the first foggy night of the last month and the tests were for such as November and December bring, but a very marked fog. The British airship which had been making the experiment flew over London by day and by night the last fortnight, made her appearance at dusk and sailed over the city for several hours, recently furnished the British with strategic points and they managed to follow her wherever she went. Much of the time there were two shafts of light from the big brown sausage-shaped craft, and they kept her in sight when she dropped down near the buildings. The British airship followed her upward course and her sudden turns and windings. Many thousands of people were out in the streets watching the experiment.

It has been believed that the Zeppelins will choose a foggy day for a raid on London if they attempt such a thing. The British airship followed her upward course and her sudden turns and windings. Many thousands of people were out in the streets watching the experiment.

Every preparation has been made to give the Zeppelins a warm reception if they invade the British air. Aeroplanes fully equipped for fighting are kept in reserve and could be launched at any moment. The British airship followed her upward course and her sudden turns and windings. Many thousands of people were out in the streets watching the experiment.

THINKS ENGLAND IS BLUFFING.

German Press Believes Britannia is Trying to Enroll the Scandinavian States in the European War.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
ROME, Oct. 5.—The German press, according to communications received here, thinks Great Britain is using pressure to induce the Scandinavian countries, particularly Denmark, to abandon their neutrality and participate in the war against Germany.

The Deutsche Tages Zeitung of Berlin says it is rumored that many hostile ships have been seen in the Skagerrak and the Kattegat, and added:
"If these ships are British, it shows an intention to make a threatening demonstration against the Scandinavian States, particularly Denmark."

FISHERMEN COMPLAIN.

Bristol Bay Packing Company Accused of Withholding Pay and Providing Insufficient Feed for Men.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Sixty-five fishermen who have just returned here from Alaska, appealed to the United States Attorney, John W. Preston, today, alleging an attempt by the Bristol Bay Packing Company to withhold part of their wages for the season at the company's cannery. The men said they had refused to return home on the steamer McLaurin, the ship designated by the company, on the ground that it was overloaded and carried insufficient food. They were sent to Seattle and thence to San Francisco on other vessels and for the expense of transportation the fishermen asserted that the company was preparing to deduct $59.50 from the $160 wages of each.

THE WOMEN INTERESTED.
So enthusiastic are the Yolo people over Capt. Fredericks that when he spoke at Knight's Landing a score or so women met in the main street, in the middle of the street at that time, and organized a Woman's Fredericks Club by electing Mrs. T. H. Dixon president. The club will be one of the live Fredericks organizations of the Sacramento Valley.

The women of the county took charge of Mrs. Fredericks at Woodland early today, and there they kept her at a reception that lasted all afternoon. Capt. Fredericks lost no time in taking advantage of his wife's visit. He called upon Sadie De Kolb Burke, and they were together for some time. Sadie is the world's champion Holstein milch cow. Her husband is on the farm of A. W. Morris and sons, her owners, and Capt. Fredericks admired her so long that he was late getting to Davis. When he gave the case for his tardiness he was pardoned.

The Fredericks party leaves Sacramento tomorrow for Grass Valley, Nevada City and Colfax. At night Capt. Fredericks will speak at Auburn, the home of Secretary of War C. E. Smith. A large number of ceremonies. Another red-fire demonstration is promised there, and a surprise is in store for the candidate.

DECLARES ISSUES ARE CLEARLY DEFINED IN CALIFORNIA FOR THIS ELECTION.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 5.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, Republican nominee for United States Senator, was enthusiastically greeted this evening by a large gathering in front of the City Hall. Fully 500 were present.

The meeting was called to order by Col. H. Minor, chairman of the Republican Club. Knowland reviewed his public record as a member of Congress, mentioning important legislation he had advocated, including the election of Senators by the people, the pure-food law, the act to eradicate the white slave traffic, and an act granting compensation to workmen injured in interstate commerce.

He declared that the best answer to the attacks of Francis J. Heney was to cite the record of his own life. Heney spent a week in his Congressional district attacking his record, and that the record of the people of California was a majority of 12,000 votes at the primary.

"Never yet during my public life," declared Knowland, "have I found it necessary to compromise myself by attacking an opponent."
"The issue is clearly defined in California this year," declared Knowland. "Do you believe the Democratic tariff policy, or do you not?"
Knowland speaks tomorrow night at Visalia.

Shakes Fort de France.
A dispatch from Port de France, Island of Martinique, received in New York last Saturday, said that shortly after 1 o'clock that day a severe earthquake shook the island. The direction was from north to south. No damage was done locally. The same shock was recorded also in the Windward and Leeward Islands.

ARRESTED AS A SPY.

THE LOT OF A MINISTER.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, Oct. 5, 4:55 p.m.—The Rev. Albert A. Williams of Boston has reached London after arrest and imprisonment in Brussels at the hands of the Germans on charges of being an English spy and with trying to buy information concerning the movement of German troops. Notes made by Mr. Williams in a French dictionary for a sermon on the horrors of war were found in his possession. A German lieutenant thought they constituted code messages because of the abbreviated form in which they had been put down.

eral asking permission to remain until the German positions facing them were taken.

This was granted, and the men advanced. Although they met with such a terrific fire from the machine guns that an advance of 800 yards took eight hours, they captured the position and a number of prisoners. They suffered severely.

French cavalry executed a daring raid back of the German lines, where they blew up a railroad tunnel and escaped before their presence was discovered.

British lancers and French troops performed a brilliant exploit at another point. Getting between the Imperial guard and their artillery ammunition train by a long, dashing ride, they cut off the supplies, destroying them so that the guards' big guns were rendered temporarily useless.

Gen. Jean Rousseau of the French cavalry died today of wounds. Audacious espionage carried on by the Germans has caused the staff of the allies to deal severely with all strangers found within the lines. When two curious Irishmen, who were arrested yesterday, had proved their identity to the satisfaction of the officers, they were asked to go to the headquarters buildings, where an automobile was drawn up. Two officers, apparently French, occupied the front seat. Behind them were two supposed German spies. A manacle civilian between them. The staff officer said:

"This is the reason for our severity. These five men are German spies who were captured today near the firing line."

If Necessary, England Will go to the Extreme of Seizing the Woolen Factories, it is Reported.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, Oct. 5.—According to the Yorkshire Post, the War Office is taking drastic measures to obtain an adequate supply of hosiery, underclothes, gloves and other woollen goods for the army and navy. All the manufacturers in Lancashire, the chief center of the woolen industry, have been informed that their entire product of heavy goods must be placed at the disposal of the War Office. A single garment is withheld by a manufacturer, or is supplied to any firm whatever, the War Office will at once initiate proceedings to seize it, giving the firm a certain percentage of the profits.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Lieut. A. Elliott Brown, U.S.A., who visited the battlefield of the Meuse just after the fighting, reached New York today with a vivid description of the battlefield. So great had been the carnage, he said, that within a radius of 500 yards he saw German dead. The bayonet charges of the allies, he said, were responsible for the great slaughter, as the German soldiers were so strongly entrenched that they could be dislodged in no other way.

TOKIO, Oct. 6, 11:30 a.m.—The Navy Department this morning issued the following official communication: "The Japanese squadron, designated to destroy the German fleet in the South Sea, has landed bluejackets on Jaluit Island, the seat of government of the Marshall group, which was annexed by Germany in 1884. It is believed the German base was destroyed and that the fortifications, arms and ammunition were seized. A British steamer in port was released. There was no resistance to the Japanese."

Gen. Villa as He Really Is.

A snapshot of Gen. Villa.

Taken Monday, September 28, in conversation with Gen. Obregon, whose shoulder and hat are just in view. Contrary to telegraphic reports, Gen. Obregon was not a prisoner or was not under any restraint. As the snapshot was taken Gen. Villa was sitting on the steps of his private car.

Man of the Hour.

VILLA READY FOR WAR AGAIN.

UNLESS CARRANZA AGREES TO TERMS BLOOD WILL FLOW.

Rebel Leader Wants to Install American Homebased Laws and Civilian President in Mexico—Is Opposed to Division of Wealth Idea of the Socialists.

Once more the tramping feet of Villa's soldiers are kicking up the dust in Mexico. The Lion of Chihuahua is ready for war again.

J. R. Powers, who returned yesterday from Mexico City to Los Angeles, had a long talk with Gen. Villa regarding the rebel leader's ultimatum.

"I do not want to go to war again," said Gen. Villa, "but I will take the field again, unless Carranza agrees to the following conditions:

"That a civilian be chosen as president of Mexico.

"That the public land in Mexico be opened to entry just as the government land is open to homesteaders in the United States.

"That Carranza accept these terms, for he certainly is preparing to take the war trail again soon. Mr. Powers came up on the train with Capt. Taylor of Gen. Villa's army, who is on a leave of absence. When Capt. Taylor asked where he should report on the expiration of his leave, Gen. Villa replied tersely, "Report to me in the City of Mexico."

Mr. Powers states that Gen. Villa denied being a Socialist or an advocate of Socialist principles.

"Villa told me that he did not want to have a division of the wealth of Mexico among the poor, or even to assign free lands to the poor. He said that the homestead laws of the United States had been the making of the country and he felt confident similar laws would have a similar effect upon Mexico."

Powers witnessed the drilling of Villa's army of 47,000 men in Chihuahua. "It is not the loose band of ragamuffins that most Americans seem to imagine," he said. "Villa's army is all uniformed and well armed. The soldiers not only have modern rifles and ammunition enough for a year's campaign, but they have fine machine guns and even siege artillery. Villa drills them from morning until night. Seldom have soldiers gone through such a course of sprouts. They are on the drill grounds at 7 o'clock in the morning and drill all day long."

"Villa is a splendid soldier, a brilliant strategist. In fact, he is both physically and intellectually the most remarkable man I ever met. He is without education, but has sense and remarkable powers of intuition take the place of learning with him."

"He is recognized all through Mexico as the man of the hour. The man has literally burst into power. A few months ago he was a hunted bandit with a reward of $25,000 gold hanging over his head, offered by Terrazas. Now he is living in one of Terrazas's palaces; he has a wife in another and he has installed an ice plant in a third. Villa must have an immense fortune put away. He is paying his soldiers $2 Mex. a day, and his currency is accepted in New York at 10 cents on the dollar. His credit is partly due to the fact that he is said to be in possession of Terrazas's fabulously rich silver mine."

The former bandit is an extraordinary character and the stuff that popular heroes are made of. With one hand he scatters money to the beggars and with the other death to those who oppose him. He neither drinks or smokes, and will not tolerate excesses in his men."

"Hundreds of beggars gather round his palace every morning, and Gen. Villa lets none of them go away empty-handed. Not long ago, one of his young officers was sent on a mission to El Paso and was obliged to spend $200 in a hotel. When he told this somewhat ruefully to Villa, the general dug down into his own pocket, fished out $200 and gave it to him, patting him on the back and dismissing him with the admonition to be a good boy. On the other hand, if appealed to President Wilson for protection.

Gov. Maytorena, with his Villa adherents and Yaqui Indians, confined their steps to sharpshooting. Col. Benjamin Hill, the Carranza commander of the entrenched troops here, replied in kind.

Casualties within the town were confined to the execution of twenty-five Yaquis captured during the night in a sortie. The garrison fared better than the observers on the American side, where a boy was shot in the hand and two United States cavalry horses were struck by stray Mexican bullets.

Foreseeing the difficulty of an active assault, the two warring factions are reported to be negotiating a cessation of hostilities through two commissioners.

Col. Guilfoyle of the American border patrol warned the besiegers and the besieged against shooting across the international line. In addition, the Naco (Ariz.) Citizens' Committee sent the following telegram to the President:

"We and all American citizens of this border town, respectfully and earnestly appeal to you for immediate and adequate protection of the lives of our families and ourselves from the battle between the Mexican factions now engaged in this vicinity on Mexican soil. Thousands of bullets are carelessly or maliciously fired into our streets and buildings, compelling us to abandon our homes, and causing us to suffer great hardships and danger. Additional ammunition has arrived for both sides. More is expected. Occasionally there has been ineffective shrapnel fire.

For two days the shifting of the Maytorena forces has caused the constant expectation of an assault, but so far there has been no serious contact of the two forces.

Blanco Leaves for Conference.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5.—Gen. Lucio Blanco, chairman of the Pacification Committee, appointed here to compose differences between Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa, left today for Aguascalientes, where representatives of the opposing factions will meet in conference October 10. The committee is expected to formally tomorrow at Aguascalientes.

It is officially stated that Carranza will not go to Aguascalientes tomorrow, but will make his presence there a matter of the vote of the convention, going later if invited.

JAIL FOR CANINE.

DOG "GIVE" ACTOR PROTS TO "CELL WITH MOTHER: BOTH ARE BAILED OUT.

Twenty-five dollars bail was put up at Central Police Station last night to keep dog out of jail.

There, of course, was no charge against the dog, but during the past few days he has been the star actor in a comedy play being produced by a motion-picture company, and when his master, J. H. McDaniel, was arrested on a petit larceny charge it was discovered that the production of the comedy would cease until the "leading man" could report for duty. As a result, Henry M. ("Pathe") Lehmman, president of the company, hurriedly arranged to release the dog.

The dog and his master are inseparable. They were together when the actor, W. B. Johnson placed McDaniel, who is the "leading man" of the "Canine Kid," under arrest, and the dog trotted along to the police station.

Detected by the dog, the policeman who he had better let the manager of the motion-picture company know of the situation, and in a few minutes the dog's master appeared with the bail money.

When he put up the $25, Mr. Lehmman remarked: "That makes $155 I have up for you. You owe four I had to put up $500 to keep myself out of jail after being given thirty days for releasing my dog on parole."

McDaniel was arrested on a warrant issued at the instance of Roy Kohler, a Coast League baseball player.

ANGELOTTI CONFIDENT.

Candidate for Chief Justice, Here on Visit, Likes the Outlook for Election in November.

Judge Frank M. Angellotti, candidate on the Republican ticket for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of California, is passing a few days in Los Angeles.

Judge Angellotti received almost 35,000 more votes in the primaries than any other candidate for the office, and with those figures as a basis believes there is justification for confidence that he will be elected.

His confidence in his own ability to win the office is based on the fact that few candidates can point to as assurance of worthiness and efficiency.

For 13 years he was District Attorney of Marin county, and filled the office so satisfactorily that he was twice made Superior Judge of the same county. Before his last term had expired he was elected to the Republican ticket Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, where he has remained over twelve years.

THREE GO TO JAIL.

Lester Carrier, Inebriate Smuggler and Purveyor of Liquor to District Grist of Cases.

In the United States District Court yesterday Herman Joder, a rural mail carrier charged with embezzling funds instructed to him for the purchase of money orders by patrons along his route, on a plea of guilty was sentenced to thirty days in the County Jail.

Jose G. Gonzales, charged with smuggling three Chinese across the border, was given ten days in County Jail. Yes, less than six months ago he pleaded guilty to the same charge, and was sentenced to eight months in the County Jail.

John Stacey, charged with conspiracy to reform and secured the influence of Capt. Connell of the immigration department, through which later on he was pardoned by President Wilson. He was barely out of jail when caught red-handed again.

Gorgonia Talamantes pleaded guilty to selling intoxicating liquor to Indians on the Ft. Yuma Reservation and was sentenced to sixty days in the County Jail and pay a fine of $100.

AS IN LONG AGO.

Prayers for peace in the city churches day before yesterday recalled similar scenes of forty-four years ago to Rev. E. J. H. Van Deerenburg, who was welcomed by Rev. Barker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal church. Mr. Van Deerenburg was pastor of an Episcopal church in England in 1839, and was welcomed there. He has a receipt from Albert Edward, then Prince of Wales and president of the National Red Cross society, for his services in 1870, acknowledging contributions from his church.

BADLY WANTED.

WILLIAM CHILD OF LOS ANGELES BOUGHT IN NORTH FOR JUMPING BILLS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Bureau of the TIMES, Oct. 3.—Superior Judge Crothers today issued an attachment for William Child, formerly a guest at the Palace Hotel and for many days weeks a figure in the city's night life. The young man is reported to be selling intoxicating liquor to Indians and is fast passing his time in making his headquarters at the Alexandria Hotel.

After a three months' stay in this city, Child, who is 24 years old, and said to be the favorite son of a New York millionaire, made a brave attempt to flee the law and to take $150,000 bank account that is reported to have been settled upon him.

On arriving he met with an accident and had to take a doctor to his hotel, for which Dr. Julian Waller sent a bill for $750. The bill remained unpaid until last night, when the young man for the south, although the surgeon says Mr. Child was spending in the neighborhood of $100 a day in the city, and that through an assignee, suit was begun on which the attachment was issued yesterday.

Mr. Child is staying at the Alexandria Hotel, having been a guest there for nearly a year. He was attending to his secret function last night and was not to be interviewed. It was stated at the hotel, however, that Mr. Child never questions the payment of any of his bills, and that he has been told he had refused to pay the doctor bill

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.
(At Home.) Owing to the influence of the $100,000,000 gold pool, cables in the foreign exchange market opened as low as $4.95 1/2 and demand bills at $4.94 1/2. Later, however, fractionally higher rates prevailed, due to the increased call. The gold pool, it is predicted, will soon have in hand 2 1/2 per cent. of the entire amount pledged. Canadian Pacific sold at a price equal to the July 30 close, in the face of a weak market in London. Los Angeles bank clearings showed an increase of $500,000 over the same day last year.

(Abroad.) Returns of the German Imperial Bank showed an increase of over $10,000,000 in specie. Russia is putting out $175,000,000 unsecured notes. Confidence in the evolving of a scheme for clearing up the London stock market situation is expressed. Negotiations are still in progress between a committee from the exchange and the banks looking toward a solution of the problem.
(For details see financial page.)

NOT FOR US.

We notice that an expert showed a committee of judges at Venice how to pick the prettiest girl in Southern California. That method may be all right for a committee, but we would have a different idea about settling this important question for ourselves.

THERMOS BOTTLES.

Will somebody please invent one that will work and that will be so cheap that every day laborer can afford to take one on the job with him for his noon lunch? People in good circumstances know what a pleasure these bottles are for picnics and camping trips, but that is not enough. Every man whose toll is heavy should share the comfort they bring. It would not hurt to have a workman for the hour afternoon. It happens too often that those who do the hardest work eat the most indigestible things, derive the scantiest nourishment and enjoy the least warmth.

YOUR OWN PROPERTY.

The government has decided a thing about national parks and forest reserves that every person in Los Angeles should adopt for himself as a guide for conduct in our city parks. Instead of placarding his playgrounds with "don'ts" and threats, the government is saying to the people, "This property is yours; take care of it." We should all feel that way about even the wild flowers in the parks and be satisfied to pluck only a few for enjoyment, leaving the rest for others and for seed. We would not despoil our own gardens, and the parks are ours just as much as our own dooryards.

"SAY WHEN."

This is a term men use when they are pouring refreshments into the other fellow's glass. It means that he is to tell you when he has the right amount of poison. There might be a way of terminating relationships in this fashion, as if the wine of friendship might be poured from the heart's urn up to a desired point and then shut off. Possibly people need each other just to a point and no further. We don't suppose anyone is wise enough to accept this or to know where to quit until it is too late. Can any of us help where we have stopped short of the great promise? What did it all mean, anyway? Where is the man or the woman with the right mental digestion, with the perfect assimilation of associates, with the rare and delicate insight that will neither give nor take too much, that can make right allowances, that can forgive and not know it and not let you know it, that can move always toward the light with a sort of lifting wing of spirit, as if life, after all, meant only growth, and disregarded personalities wherever the deadliness of selfishness might enter? This means exactly what the opening sentences of this paragraph did not. There is no saying when. There is no such thing as a stopping place for the simple reason that all persons are in a state of growth with plenty of analogies, sympathies and corollaries to keep relationships sweet, whether they are growing in the same direction or not.

RUNNING AWAY.

It is comparatively easy to ignore the disagreeable, but it never settles anything. Least of all does it solve the problem of our lives. You may say you hate tobacco, but either you or somebody else should begin to find out why so many people seem to crave tobacco and possibly need it. The same would apply to liquor and even to drugs, although the percentage of those who use the latter is not great. The fact remains that, while you are free from narcotics and stimulants, a large number of persons are not. Perhaps even you are not quite clear of a curious cry of flesh and blood for some stupid spur. It may be that you use coffee for a whip or that you lash your nerves with tea. Most people have something to fall back on for an artificial boost. There must be some reason for all this and the mere saying to a man that you will put what he wants where he can't get it will not change his nature in the least. Perhaps the race is going too fast. It may be that people work too hard and make still harder work of their play. Possibly leisure has become more strenuous than labor. Anyway, lots of people are in danger of becoming nervous bankrupts and are living for a few hours every day on borrowed strength. Sooner or later they must pay this debt as they must pay all debts. Death, the collector, will come around if the interest is not kept up. Don't be satisfied to put yourself on the back because you do not smoke or drink. Try just the least bit to find out why other people seem to feel a necessity for such things.

GOV. JOHNSON'S TAPWORM.

Hiram Johnson, in his Long Beach distribe—which resembled "the wolf's long howl on Oonalsaka's shore"—made an inadvertent confession. As reported in his one-scent, bad-scent organ, he said, "If you do a thing to a man he never forgets. In the last four years we have done a great many things to a great many men and these are now in full cry against us."

Ingersoll said that the only person entitled to use the imperial "we" in speaking of himself is a king, an editor and a man with a tapeworm. As Johnson has never been crowned, and never disgraced journalism by editing even a bucolic slangwhanging paper, it follows that in designating himself as "we" he refers to his controlling partner, the tape worm.

It is undoubtedly true that in the last four years Johnson and his worm have "done a great many things to a great many men," and that the sufferers are now "in full cry against him."

Among the many things which Johnson did to many men was to appropriate $17,276,901 of the public money, of which a great amount was wrong that was on his family, his partner, his clerks and the gangs of commissioners he caused to be created. There are commissioners to meddle with every man's business; commissioners of water, of earth and of air. There are bureaus and boards and boards and bureaus, with their secretaries and stenographers, their clerks and their assistants, "their sisters and their cousins and their aunts" to be supported.

Doing things to many men? What has this tapeworm and his partner not done to the taxpayers of California?

Say! $50,000 to the State dairy to taste the butter and smell of the cheese; $32,800 to the State forester and his band to sit on stumps and sing "Woodman Spare That Tree"; $368,800 to the railroad commissioners to sneeze whenever the members of the Interstate Railway Commission take snuff; $140,700 to the State Board of Health with its hygienic bacteriological, bug-hunting and molecule exterminating machinery; $70,000 to the labor commissioners to sit in their office chairs and look wise; $42,400 to the State veterinarian and his helpers to dose mules afflicted with the glanders and pick the ticks from the ears and tails of sheep; $20,000 to a Legislative Counsel Bureau to dot the i's and cross the t's and correct the bad grammar in laws proposed by Senators and Assemblymen; $147,900 for a Board of Control to overlook other boards; $93,500 for a State Mining Bureau to show ignorant miners how to dig holes in the ground; $197,400 to agricultural and horticultural societies to teach farmers when to plant beans and orchardists how to bud trees; $10,000 to decorate a rotunda, probably with portraits of Holy H's as a winged cherub when he ought to be represented by a forked narrative and a horned head; $12,500 for drawing plans for a reformatory; $52,500 for a gymnasium; $60,000 for a cottage; $177,239 in one year alone for running lawn mowers and sprinkling water over the State Capitol grounds and for janitors and office boys in the Capitol Building; $47,000 for a Commissioner of Lunacy and his assistants, without even requiring the latter to examine those voters who believe in the wisdom or integrity of Hiram and his tapeworm.

Oh, yes, the million and more voters who have had things done to them will not forget the Governor; they will see him politically damned first.

WILSON AND THE RAILROADS.

President Wilson takes Henry the Eighth rather than Charles the First for his model. When Charles Stuart wanted anything he took it without, as Curran remarked, "saying by your leave, or damn your soul, or any other politeness"—and Charles lost his head.

Henry Tudor adopted a different method. When he wanted anything he hornswoiled Parliament into begging him to take it. "When Henry," says Appleton Morgan, "cast greedy eyes upon the enormous hoards of the monasteries he proceeded with the most admirable circumspection. He caused it to be represented to Parliament that His Majesty had learned with sorrow that there were divers rumors of irregularities and even of immoralities in these religious establishments, humbly begging that Parliament would be pleased to appoint a commission to inquire into the truth of these most regrettable rumors."

It was further suggested by the King that, should irregularities or immoralities be discovered, it might be well to lessen the public taxes by escheating the property of the offenders.

Parliament, in compliance with the King's wishes, established the commission, and the commission found the irregularities and immoralities they were expected to find, and then by decrees of Parliament the convents and monasteries were stripped of their possessions. Henry got half the loot, but there remained the half held by religious societies which had not been either irregular or immoral.

Then the King went after the rest of the property. He secretly promoted the organization of bodies of men who protested against spoliation of the monasteries. They formed mobs. The riot act was read to them. They did not disperse. Henry then appointed a job lot of commissioners to deal with the rebels. These commissioners disbanded the rebels and the leaders were hung, drawn and quartered. Then the King, in order to prevent further trouble, confiscated the balance of the church property, took the bulk of the property and distributed the remainder among his friends.

The railroads of this country would be glad if Woodrow Wilson possessed the power as well as the disposition of Henry Tudor. Then they would have only one man to deal with. As it is they have the boards of railway commissioners of forty-eight States and, in one of these States, a Governor who makes it his business to kick any railroad corporation within reach of his starboard pedonem. There are about 5000 counties, each with its board of railway supervisors and collectors, and thousands of cities, each with its body of railway ordinances, and lots of committees of visitation and investigation.

And then "overruling them all," continues Mr. Morgan, "is the Interstate Commerce Commission (which for the first ten years of its existence carefully avoided making any decision that could possibly affect a railway situation, but which has lately assumed Praetorian jurisdiction and permits no item of railway situation to escape its edicts.) Following the Sherman law, the Elkins law, the Hepburn law, come the Newlands bill and the Clayton bill, which have been debated and trimmed and contorted for a year in the quest of something they can prohibit a railway from doing or refrain from doing whatever the Sherman law, the Elkins law or the Hepburn law have not already forbidden that railway from doing or refraining from doing."

These two bills—except that they will be declaratory and reiterative of their predecessors—are supposed to expend their aim mostly at "interlocking directorates"—that is, at providing that no railway shall select efficient or experienced persons as directors, but that each railway shall add to the efficiency and the economy of its public service by possessing a board of experimental directors of its very exclusively own.

The Times believes that railroads as well as all public utilities should be subject to supervision and regulation, but it does not commend continued harassment of them. How can a railroad comply with an order of commissioners to compete when the commissioners prescribe its rates of fare and freight? And where is the interest of the public (which owns the railroad stocks and bonds) subserved by making it difficult, if not impossible, for the railroad to earn dividends?

The religious houses in the reign of Henry the Eighth could give up their property and go out of business. Not so the railroads against whom Woodrow Wilson has unleashed the dogs of war. They cannot burn their time tables, discharge their conductors and engineers and lock up their locomotives. They must operate their lines whether their operation shall be productive of dividends or bankruptcy.

Mr. Appleton Morgan concludes his review of railroad legislation, past and pending, with the following pungent remarks:

"Can anybody figure out how the public, in whose name all this chaos has been achieved, has ever benefited by this chaos? The adjustments of railway service are as delicate as the adjustments of a chronometer watch. One figure on the cost of moving a pound of freight over a mile of roadway per wheel and per pound of steam—or the burden of a sixth or a seventh mortgage upon a mile of discontinued siding or a discarded stub-track—or upon a section of taken-up rails, or upon a lot of locomotive engines sent to the scrapheap—just simple little theorems like these! And when all these delicate adjustments are further complicated by such an item as the competition of one new waterway through the isthmus, one shall guess at the effect of the bellowing of all these Behemoths of public utility that follow. We know nothing of your problems, of the cost of coal, of wages, of strikes and trades-unions and walking delegates, of mobs that smash your rolling-stock and put your engines out of commission—we don't want to know about your fixed charges or floating debts or disbursements for supplies! Move at your peril! Whatever you are doing—stop doing it! And do something else at your peril! Obey all the laws you can hear of at the risk of disobeying a lot more laws on columns out of sight!"

COST OF PROHIBITION.

Temperance is one thing; prohibition is another. You cannot legislate sobriety into a man any more than you can legislate honesty into him. The law of the Koran prohibiting the use of alcohol has made of the Turks a sober people, but they are the most cruel, the most merciless and the most dishonest of all the civilized or half-civilized people on earth.

The prohibition amendment, proposed to be made to the Federal Constitution, prohibits the sale and the manufacture for sale of intoxicating liquors. This would not prohibit a man from manufacturing liquor for his own use. A cheap distilling apparatus could be placed on the kitchen or the parlor stove and home drunkenness promoted. The stuff made would be vile, for beer cannot be made by so simple a process.

It is estimated that national prohibition would diminish the annual Federal revenues about $250,000,000. This loss added to that inflicted by the new tariff and that caused by the European war, coupled with the increased pork-barrel and other expenditures of this extravagant Democratic Congress, would not bankrupt the nation, but it would place an intolerable burden on the shoulders of a tax-burdened people, while locally the revenues now derived from licenses would be extracted from the pockets of the home owners.

The leader of the prohibition forces in Congress is Mr. Hobson of Alabama. In addition to the usual appropriations he wants $300,000,000 appropriated for the construction of twenty-two dreadnaughts, and at the same time he proposes to cut down the revenue $250,000,000. Our total annual expenditures are now $1,150,000,000. With $300,000,000 added to our outgo and $250,000,000 deducted from our income we would almost regret that the hero of the Spanish War blow-up had gone into politics.

DISCOURAGEMENT.
WALT MASON IN "THE TIMES."

No matter what our task, some days will find us sighing, and wearily we ask, "What is the use of trying?" The heart is often sore, from struggle and endeavor; from doing one thing or, forever and forever. We feel that what we do is really not worth doing, and that the goal in view is not worth the use of trying. We feel there is no chance to better our condition, as sadly we dwell to old age and demerolism. We advance with Fear and Doubt, and all ambitions perish; the bottom's fallen out of everything we cherish. Upon such doleful days, which come to clerk or writer, how quickly words of praise will make the whole world brighter! These amble to my side a pilgrim bent and hoary, who murmurs, "By St. Bride! I liked your latest story!" This little cheerful word, though it may be deluding, makes worry seem absurd, and ends my grief and brooding. And I, refreshed and strong, go forth, no longer fearful, to pass that word along, and make some toiler cheerful.

THE CALL OF UNCLE SAM.

BY ADOLPHE DANZIGER.

I am calling, yes, I'm calling
Labor loving to this land;
I am ready for the falling
With a strong and helping hand.

I have lands in every county,
Charming homes in every State;
And I yield a stintless bounty
All who rise above their Fate.

In my land the strong may stumble,
And the highest flyer drop;
While a fellow, meek and humble,
Climbs as quickly to the top.

In this land of never, never,
Falling opportunity
There is profit for the clever,
And enjoyment for the free

There be toilers in the trenches,
Earning bread the meager way;
While the workers at the benches
Are in technique arts at play.

There be plowers and the seeders
On the mighty western plain;
There be planters and the breeders,
And the seas of amber grain.

There be metal-getting miners
For the Nation's golden dome;
And the sweet and gentle shiners
Building altars in the home.

I am calling, firm, yet tender,
To the sad in every land,
Willing like a man to render Service and a helping hand.

THE CASE FOR THE DEFENCE.

BY HARRY BOWLING.

The suit against Mars, the god of war, has been tried by the jury of civilization before the Judge of the Universe, and a unanimous verdict of guilty has been rendered. Yet on reviewing the evidence we find the contentions are not entirely borne out by the facts, so after sentencing the culprit to world-long imprisonment, we are forced to admit that the case is not so complete as we should like it to be.

There are extenuating circumstances. Peace wears a fair and radiant aspect; war is shaggy and hideous. Behind the sweet smiles of peace, however, may lurk the danger of too much ease, softness and self-indulgence; from the frowning visage of war we may learn the lesson of discipline, alertness and self-control. Therefore it is easier to pass sentence on Mars than to ensure the carrying out of the sentence.

We are not yet on the right track. We still declare, "In times of peace prepare for war," while the proper attitude is, "In times of war prepare for peace." But no nation yet has attempted the latter. So too often long periods of peace have assayed the strength of empires and softened the vigor of republics. The only practical way to chain the dogs of war is to make peace as robust as war is beautiful, as aggressive as war is benevolent.

We are told that war sends out the flower of a nation's manhood to the slaughter pen and so even a victorious nation must suffer in the next generation, because the ablest males have been killed off and only the weaklings left to breed for her sons and daughters. But statistics show that in the most sanguinary battles not more than 5 per cent. of the men engaged are killed, and not more than 8 per cent. are permanently injured; and thousands of able-bodied men return to their native land hardened mentally, morally and physically by the stern discipline they have been subjected to.

There is a terrible blood disease that is doing far more in times of peace to sap the strength of nations than all the cannons and shot and steel of Prussians and Franks and Slavs. Don't let us forget this truth: Peace produces its damaged goods as well as war. But the damage isn't so spectacular and glaring. It works secretly.

History indeed has shown time and again that eras of national greatness have succeeded periods of war and devastation. After fifty years fighting with the Philistines the Israelites reached the acme of their glory in the reign of King Solomon. From the slaughter of Marathon and Salamis emerged the golden age of Athenian art and philosophy. Nearly a century of ceaseless war preceded the Augustan age of literature in Rome, while a similar period of voluptuous ease left the Roman empire flabby and lifeless. The Wars of the Roses exhausted English strength for sixty years, and it was followed by the great Elizabethan age of enlightenment and discovery.

Moreover, though America sent the flower of her young manhood from the North and the South to the terrible battlefields of the great civil war, at its conclusion the increase in national progress and vitality made a record unequalled in the world's history.

War is hell, but it is shot through with divine sparks from heaven. Already, silhouetted against the storm and backdrop of the present tempest of passion in Europe, may be seen faintly the colors of the coming rainbow of promise and hope.

Six weeks of war have produced a startling change of spirit in Russia, a change that a century of peace could never have brought about. Intemperance has been the curse of the Slav, yet in the past the Russian government has not hesitated at raising immense revenues by the control of the sale of vile vodka. But under the stress of war vodka has been prohibited in the whole Russian empire. So good has been the result of the edict, a wartime measure, that the czar has declared the prohibition will still hold after peace has been restored. In the universal condemnation of Mars this one extenuating circumstance deserves to be put on record.

Thousands of recruits in Great Britain from shop, store and counting-house are being licked into shape in the military field of Aldershot. These may never go to the front, but they will certainly return to their peaceful duties stronger and harder men for the discipline they have undergone. This is one count for the defense in the trial of the war god.

Our churches and ministers have expressed the strongest sentiments and brought the strongest indictments against the barbarous and wicked war in Europe. But surely after reading the following (which I quote from The Times of October 3) they must admit that there may be some good in this most apparently hopeless of evils:

"One result of the war has been a religious revival in France. The so-called 'Clerical Fervor' has disappeared from the popular imagination. No feature of the war has been more striking than the religious feeling it has evoked. We shall be surprised if the war and pro-spiritual emotions it has kindled are not attended by a quickening and deepening of the religious feeling in England as well as in France."

War is a surgeon and he cuts deep and the scars may be permanent. But if the sore of insobriety be removed in one limb of the human race and the ulcer of unbelief be excised in another the whole body may be finally benefited by the blood-letting. And peace may have a better chance afterwards to make the human fabric strong and aggressive in nobler and more useful occupations, and the present apparent retrogression to savagery may be followed by the greatest era yet of Christian advance.

DOCTRINE.

[Thomas L. Mason in October Lippincott:] There are more people in cities than anywhere else.

When you want to accomplish a certain result you go where there is the greatest opportunity.

To make government better, you must make people better.

To make people better you must work where there are the greatest number of them.

Reform the cities, and the country will take care of itself.

In advertising campaigns, one district is tried out first. If it succeeds, then the whole country is taken. This saves much money. It reduces the risk.

In this country we are trying to reform too many cities at once. Let us take one at a time.

Begin anywhere.

If New York is too large, take Fifth avenue. Let all the efficiency reformers in the country concentrate on Fifth avenue. Let's learn on Fifth avenue.

If we can reform Fifth avenue, we can reform the world.

A Moving Argument.

longer than the holster that bears it.
He was assisted by thirty deputies, ten for each saloon, all in uniform, which is mostly firearms and sombreroes with "chaps" off and on.
Just outside Riley's dance hall,
where Lon McCoy is in charge, some fifty shooting scrapes occurred and a Chinaman was lynched. The cause of the lynching was aggravated. The Chinaman, Jerry Walters, had been sprinkling clothes in the laundry by the method best used by Chinamen, and had sprayed too far, so that he moistened the ruffled neck of Harry Thompson, who was losing at a chuck-luck game at the entrance to the laundry.
The lynching looked real, and almost became so because of a timid woman who thought it was entirely too realistic. She started away and her foot touched the leg of the chair
upon which the victim was resting.
Fortunately, the limb of the property
tree broke.
"Old Pete" Hansen was attracted by the noise, but went to "The First Chance," where he had settled himself at a roulette table. He had won slightly.
"The First Chance" was under the management of William Dunn, a busy barkeep and a good one, for he never gave back any change. Anything that fell over the bar was his, and he had a trained knee that produced the profitable effect. Once a man, R. H.
Strong, fell over the bar but Mr.
Dunn returned him. That was because he was broke.
For the cigar stand of Charles Bennett there was little patronage, because the place was placarded with signs forbidding smoking. Miss Grace Stoetner, selling pennants and copies of "The Grizzly Bear" and miniature mission bells, took the business that should have gone to Bennett under more sedate business conditions.
BEANS AND SAUERKRAUT.
Upstairs, Mother Grady's boarding-house, under the management of Mrs.
Fannie L. Frasier, supplies beans and sauerkraut and other dainties of the house.
Henry Brodek was landlord at the Palace Hotel, Grove Valley gave continuous vandeville at the opera house, and D. F. Taggart was proprietor and peacemaker at the Top Red Light Saloon. It was there that "Old Pete"
Hansen made a killing at chuck-luck.
His fortune ran to $500 in a few minutes of play, and he went on to the faro bank.
The Last Chance Saloon was the turning point on the main street, just beyond the Corner's office. The Corner, Dr. R. M. Dunsen, was a busy man. Every woman that went there came forth with a black eye, proof
that she couldn't be killed.
The general store was under the management of L. Dunn and H. J. Le-lands, where purchases of real merchandise could be made by the thrifty.
In full blast, "Hangtown" continued until a late hour, and when the lights were ready to be turned out, "Old Pete" Hansen was ready to leave.
"Taint different at all, it's the real thing," he said.
He had lost all his money.
THEY MUST GO.
Supreme Court Decision Basis for Ruling Under Which Two Smugglers
Will Be Deported.
For the first time in the local Federal Court the deliverance of the United States Supreme Court, involving certain rights of aliens, was invoked yesterday when Judge Well-born dismissed the writ of habeas corpus prayed for in behalf of George Kharapoulos and Charles Bar-gas, two well-known Greeks living in San Diego. Under the finding of the court they will be immediately deported to Greece.
The aliens had lived in San Diego
for some years, both being in business there. About a year ago they crossed the line into Mexico, and on their return they were arrested and sixty-five-tael cans of smoking opium were found in their possession. Deportation proceedings were begun.
Writs of habeas corpus were at once sued out for their release, on the ground that they had lived in the United States for more than the three-year period with in which deportation proceedings must be brought against an alien unlawfully in the country.
The Supreme Court held in effect that an alien leaving the United States and expecting to return does so at his peril; that if he does so, he must again be viewed and examined by the immigration department just as if he had never been in this country. It was asserted by the government over country without inspection and that they were likely to become public charges.

A number of Federal decisions favored the contention of the men, but the opinion of the Supreme Court took the other horn of the dilemma
and Judge Wellborn accepted that view.
BLACK HAND AGAIN BLAMED.
One Man Attacked Says Money had

Two men were the victims of two

ing. One asserted he was set upon by

was unable to account for the attack upon him.
Giovanni Pisanni of No. 3605 San Pedro street was knocked unconscious
in front of No. 630 San Fernando street by two men. Two officers appearing around a corner evidently frightened the assailants. They sped

been demanded of him some time ago
and his refusal provoked the attack.
L. D. Gaban, a railroad man of No.
941 Towne street, was on his way home, and had reached Seventh street and Central avenue when a man stepped from behind a telephone pole and fired several shots at him. Gaban ran, but was overtaken and beaten
over the head with a piece of gas pipe.
CAT HIDES IN HOTEL.
Prize Feline Meowing in Room
Taken out by Bellboy—It Disappears and Then—
The kindness of a humane bellboy
who took a cat out of a guest's room
at the Alexandria yesterday to feed
it, was not appreciated by either the management of the hotel or the owner of the pet, as it turned out. Had not the cat dropped out of sight in the checkroom, where it was taken,
the boy would have received thanks
—probably a substantial tip.
When the cat became lost everyone connected with the hotel staff
from the lowest menial to Manager Ross heard about it. The owner of the cat said that it was an aristocratic feline, the taker of numerous blue ribbons at cat shows. When she hinted that the animal was worth about $1000 the management became especially diligent in the search.
After six hours of hard work the cat was found, fast asleep, behind a dress suit case in the checkroom. How it happened to remain quiet so long
is a mystery to everyone concerned.
The owner of the cat was out of her room when the bellboy heard its cry and answered. The fact that it is against the rules of the house for guests to take cats to the rooms made the incident all the more annoying.

THAT'LL BE ABOUT ALL FOR MEXICAN JOE RIVERS

LEVY'S ALIBI IS VERY THIN.
Joe Rivers is About Through as a Boxer.
Thompson's Buy San Diego Fight Game.
Harry Foley Must be "Some" Poker Player.

BY DONALD O'BRIEN.
If Joe Levy will kindly step forward, we will award him the medal for having produced about the thinnest alibi that any manager ever had the nerve to offer. In a telegram received yesterday in Los Angeles, Levy thus accounts for the defeat of the Mexican by Joe Mandot:
"Rivers wanted to land a single blow that would finish Mandot. He started slow, intending to fight Mandot off his feet at the finish, but the referee permitted Mandot's holding throughout the last part of the match, and Joe couldn't break loose long enough to fight."
The last time they fought out here, Joe Rivers had Mandot almost out and nearly slugged his arm out of the socket trying to find the one blow that would put him out.
The truth is, Mandot is too smart for the Mex. It isn't the fast boxers or the tough ones that worry Rivers. It's the boys with quick brains. Ritchie is the one fighter who could not be called crafty who has ever defeated Rivers. The others who have beaten him are the foxes of the ring—Welsh, Mandot, Lesch, Cross. Joe's arms travel by lightning express but his brain follows by slow freight.
Anyhow, Rivers is through. The proposal to match him with Johnny Dundee in November is a fierce joke.

Self-Appointed Champ.
Johnny Schiff writes to a friend in Los Angeles that he is working in vaudeville in London with Jack Johnson. He says that what the big black thinks of the American newspapers would have to be written in terrible words. Johnny adds unhesitatingly that he would like to have his mail sent to "Johnny Schiff, the American featherweight champion." He adds the fact he isn't a featherweight any more. Altogether, Johnny's claim to the featherweight throne to which he has hoisted himself seems to be somewhat in the Mexican President's class.

Swell Chance.
Anyone matched to box one George Thompson in San Diego has what I would call a swell chance.
Not long ago, Thompson boxed Earl Puryear and lost the decision. Since then, Thompson's pa has bought the boxing club where the fight was staged; has fired the referee who decided against his cherub son and is now looking for matches for George. All matches to be played on the home grounds! Eddie McCalliffe has accepted the first chance. Eddie is advised to knock him out with an ax, and then sit on his head, then he might get the decision.

Jimmy Crow-fished.
It looks as though some one had handed one to Promoter T. J. McCarey in the matter of the middleweight tournament. Jimmy Clabby has reneged and will not fight here as he agreed. Jimmy Coffroth will stage the Clabby-Chip fight in San Francisco instead. Chip was willing to go through with his end of the bargain here, but it takes two to make a match as I understand it. If there is any place where Clabby thinks he can do better than any other place against Chip, he had better pick it out. Chip is likely to knock his head off.

A Real Tribute.
Abe Attell has selected Harry Foley to train him for his next fight. Foley must play a corking game of poker.

SUPREME CONFIDENCE MARKS STANFORD PLAY.
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 5. A supreme confidence in their ability to execute any play conceived indicates the point of excellence to which the Stanford varsity rugger has progressed.
No play seems too hazardous, no attempt too difficult, but these doughty veterans of the pigskin will "take a chance."
Their manner of assurance on the turf reminds one of the actions of the big league ball player with whom difficult plays have become so habitual that they necessitate little thought or concentration.
JUST SPEED.
When a play is once launched, all thought of defeat vanishes, and one idea of putting that play through with the greatest possible speed possesses them.
Even the distracting thought of the whereabouts of that man bearing down from behind is eliminated by their terrific speed. The backs know that they cannot be caught, and even if they are, a teammate is just behind waiting to receive the ball.
Time and time again Saturday, the backs headed a passing rush directly into a phalanx of their opponents and succeeded several times in breaking through. They bored through by dodging, swerving, straight-arming, wiggling loose or by running with knees high in the air. They have become so slippery that it is almost impossible to stop them.
ONE HAND.
A play illustrating their expertness is the long pass with one hand. They get it away and straight to its mark so their attempts are not those of one-handed beginners, nor are they plays to the grand stand.
Joe Urban becomes speedier every day. He seems to be as much at home on his head as on his feet. He swerves and dodges as so strenuous that sometimes it seems almost as if he extends his body parallel to the ground. When thrown he merely rolls over and is on his way again.
AUSTIN AGAIN.
Charlie Austin has still another new trick. This trick is to evade a man by making the pass while standing still, then dodging off in the direction opposite to which it seems he is starting.
The perfection of the running dive tackle, eliminated from the American game, continues. The Cardinal goal was twice saved by it Saturday when the opposition were so strenuous and it seemed a score was certain. The first time Art Erb slipped up behind a lone would-be scorer and downed him with such force that he stayed on the ground some time.
A few minutes later Erb and Carroll stopped an entire passing rush from behind. Frank Reeve's seal along this time led him to tackle a man who had marked the ball. A cross penalty rewarded him of the proper course of action in such cases.
SHEER NERVE.
Andrews at full seems to have forgotten what excitement is. He sidesteps with the lightning of a cat and gets his boots off to touch with great accuracy.
The speed of Tiny Wines, "Duke" Gaud and the other backs gives a forward division faster than the back field of most teams. Wines has done his gray sweater and will undoubtedly be in the front rank on November 14. His appearance there has eliminated "Hero" Bihman, who is now starring in the ranks of the second varsity.
Wyllie's appearance Saturday should surely silence the whisperings that he may not make his letter. It has been said that he is not the star that he was.

POLO SEASON STARTS SOON.
RIVERSIDE, Oct. 5.—October 16 is the date set by the directors of the Riverside Polo Club for the opening game of the season, which gives promise of being the most brilliant in local history because of the presence of Hugh Drury, who will manage the home team.
Reggie and Harry Weiss will be in the line-up for the first game, and possibly Bobby Neustadt and Carleton Burke of Pasadena. Strong efforts are being made to persuade these two players to keep a string of ponies here for the season.
Wade boys will be at Chemsava Park with their ponies throughout the winter.

TIGER ELEVEN IS CLOSELY GUARDED.
HILL-ENCIRCLED GRIDIRON TOO EASILY SEEN BY SPIES.
BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.
"Whoo-er, I mean, halt. Take off them whiskers. Come on now, unmask. Oh, pardon me, professor, I thought sure you were one of them Pomona guys."
Such are the sounds of suspicion and turmoil liable to be heard at any hour of the day or night in the vicinity of Eagle Rock, for a state of war exists at Occidental College and all the surrounding hills are declared under martial law.
For the Tigers are in the throes of hammering together a championship football team and fear the spying of law-abiding opponents who seek to penetrate their very lair and learn their plays and signals.
Last year, despite a ten-foot fence guarded by stalwart youths armed with broomsticks, the Tigers found difficulty in obtaining enough secrecy to thoroughly practice the mass of intricate plays that Willy Joe Pipal had hatched up for them.
This year the Tigers have about as much privacy as a man with a bunch of paces for the world's series. Their thoughtful Alma Mater provided them with a lovely field, minus any sign of a fence, right in the center of a circle of beautifully wooded hills, calculated to furnish magnificent cover for the lawbreakers.
The result of this geographical prominence is that when the Tiger eleven takes the field it is about as hard to see as a wart on a bald head.
The men are outlined against the dove soil like polka dots on a white shirt and the marked signals of the quarterback are as easily distinguished as the whistle of a traffic cop.
The wary Tigers claim that Coach Stanton of Pomona, with his experience as a Thespian is able to disguise himself and thus mingle unsuspected with the Tigers.
They claim that two years ago he wore his hair long, enabling him to pass as a guileless freshman, while last year he resorted to the more heroic measure of growing whiskers, thus passing for a distinguished Russian diplomat. To what desperate measures may not the Hun chieftain descend this year, they ask, what scenery may he not adopt this season to hide his nefarious pursuits?
The truth of the matter is that the Tigers are worried to death lest some one invade the erstwhile Arcadian solitude of Eagle Rock to slope with their pet plays.
Hence this mobilization of the militia, this arming of those stalwarts not needed to pursue the pigskin, this ceaseless vigilance, this close inspection of all who venture within ear or eye-shot of the field.
All persons desiring to gain admission to the valley, whether it be their desire to register as a student, view the buildings or merely deliver the morning paper, are submitted to a close scrutiny at the hands of these Vigilantes, forced to give their age, weight and occupation and put up a bond to be forfeited at the first suspicious act.
For the enemies of the Tigers have the eye of William J. Burns, the nerve of an ulcerated tooth, the persistence of the tax collector and the crust of a dairy lunch pie and it behooves the Tigers guard their products against the sacrilegious invasions of the unsanctified alien.

HOW JAMES WAS SAVED.
Boston Heaver Almost Joined Sacramento.
But He Escaped and Landed in Beantown.
He Should Get Real Money Next Year.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
"Boston Bill" James was four years ago threatened by an unseen peril. The Sacramento club tried to sign him when he wasn't looking.
Had this happened, it probably would have changed the entire course of his illustrious life, and he might not now be oiling up his arm for the world's series.
Billy Burke, the versatile trainer and scout of the Missions, slipped me this dark chapter from Bill's early life just before leaving for the north.
In 1910, Charley Graham, who was then acting as financial nurse girl to the Sacramento club, sent Burke down to take a squirt at a big yep who was setting Oroville on fire with his pitching.
Burke wasn't greatly impressed with the speed and curves of this particular yep, but there was another yep (Continued on Third Page.)

Coach Fritsch of Manual waved scrimmages and team practices ruthlessly aside yesterday and had his Toilers practice at dodging and tackling.
The practice was rough, to say the least, and smearing was in order. A back got through one man to find sign of a fence, right in the center of a circle of beautifully wooded hills, calculated to furnish magnificent cover for the lawbreakers.

Tiger Varsity Staves Off Freshmen in a Hot Scrimmage.

A Stone Wall.
TIGERS STRONG
IN SCRIMMAGE.

Freshmen Fail to Budge Oxy

Trojan Varsity Freshies to Play Today.

D'Aule Excited Over Coming
Tiger Game.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

The Occidental Tigers are in the throes of a solid week of scrimmage. It began yesterday afternoon when the varsity and the Tigers scrimmaged until 5:30 o'clock and twilight.

From a varsity viewpoint, yesterday's scrimmage was satisfactory. The freshmen lined up in the center of the field and attacked the varsity with backs and end runs for twenty minutes. It netted them a loss of ten yards. The varsity line was holding like a stone wall, hurling the attacks back.

Now and then Peters of Arizona would sneak through a 5 or 10-yard gain. But Walker, Shutt, Batts or Law would be caught behind the line for a loss and the matter of yards would be evened up.

The right side of the varsity line, with Theodore Stearns at guard, Shipke at tackle and Coffey at end, was impregnable.

The other side of the line, with Ardel Stearns and Squires at guard, Deane at tackle and Batts at end, gave but little. The chief reason for this giving at all was Peters, who some day will be a gridiron headliner. He is a comer of the first water.

Sometimes Warren at center would open a hole for a buck, but both Dolg and Johnson, who was working at full, were on the line and his nose showed very far beyond the line. Batts was dumping all end runs with marked success.

Unless Batts fail, the Tigers are not going to be weaklings on the defense. Those new ends, Batts and Coffey, are going to smear rather than get smeared.

The freshmen then punted to the varsity. It was a pleasure to watch the varsity backs pump the men who had penetrated the line and were bearing down on Capt. Foster, handler of punts.

Once the Tigers assumed the offense, the freshmen were out of luck. The varsity walked up and down the field. Johnson, sub full, and Shorty Smith, sub half, were playing in Brandtetter's and McClung's positions most of the time. Johnson was ripping big holes, and looks like a good understudy for "Brandy."

McClung and Brandtetter got into the scrimmage for the last ten minutes. McClung practiced his boot on the freshmen. Batts and Coffey were usually waiting for the fresh to catch the ball.

Once a pass went wrong and a fumble resulted in the backfield. Foster got the ball and sent a forward pass to McClung, who zigzagged up the field. It recalled the Wieman-Beny combination which turned all "beef" into new trick plays.

The Trojan varsity and freshmen will hold a regular game today. It will be called at 3 o'clock and is in honor of Founders Day. This should be a fierce struggle. It will be the first time that the two have been pitted against each other in a regular battle.

Both teams spent the two hours on Boverd Field yesterday in signal drill, not attempting anything rough. Coach Glaze is spending a great deal of time in perfecting the Trojan teamwork and teaching them to run off their plays with precision and dispatch. He is getting ready for Saturday's battle on Boverd Field with Redlands. The Baptists have threatened to do things to the Trojans. Of course, Glaze would not have that.

Shift Plays.
As time goes on it becomes more and more apparent that Coach Glaze will be the promoter of the shift play. Judging from the little the new Trojan coach has revealed to the public, half of the Methodist attack in the big game will be of the shift variety, with one signal running off two or three plays in gaiting-run fashion.

References, Attention!
So far the officials have been penalizing the Trojans on their shift, which Coach Glaze believes shows them up as being more or less unacquainted with the rules. The Trojans, too, are not as careful as might be in lining up. Sometimes seven men fail to get on the offensive line of scrimmage.

But that does not keep Glaze from worrying. He has a number of shifts and trick plays which he is afraid the referees will not understand. Everything new they have penalized. These new plays of his he saw worked repeatedly in the South and East without penalty.

He wants to play the open game. He has legal plays with which to do that little thing. He is afraid the average western referee has still some midnight hours to burn over his rules.

Exciting Days for Nap.
These are exciting days for Jack D'Aule, familiarly known as "Nap." Ahead of him is the Occidental game—the one for which he has been waiting eagerly, expectantly—the one in which he hopes to establish L.A.C.'s fame forever.

He went to Elba without complaining when the Trojans won. He took the long retreat from Moscow philosophically when the Quakers rose up against him in their might. But he will not go to St. Helena without kicking. He is staking all on the Occidental game. Like the "Little Corporal," he will either make it his Waterloo or his Empire Day.

DENVER WALLOPS
INDIANS, 11 TO 5.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

DENVER (Colo.), Oct. 5.—The Denver Western League team won the third game of the inter-league series today from Indianapolis, the American Association team, 11 to 5.

WORLD SERIES RUMBLINGS

heaved three hitless innings while Shawkey and Bressler each allowed a single hit.

Class Here.

Just to show that they are capable of coming through with something in the way of a sensational attack themselves, the Braves took loose on the helpless Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, accumulating two games and numerous hits and runs, the climax coming in the ninth inning of the second game when, with Brooklyn one run to the good and three men on the bags, Whitted slammed the ball out of the lot for a homer.

McInnes Out.

Stuffy McInnes, Mack's sensational first baseman, was not in the game yesterday, his injured thumb being nursed along for the big series. The injury is not serious and he took part in the warming up practice, but they don't want to take any chances.

Some Rooters.

Mayor Curley of Boston, the gentleman who was so outraged when Fred Shodgrass showed his contempt of the Boston populace by sticking his thumb to his nose with his fingers waving in the air some time since, will lead the "Royal Rooters," a band of 500 "ruffians" who have followed the fortunes of every Boston team which has taken part in an important series.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5.—The Boston champions played rings around the Brooklyn in today's double-header, winning both games, the first by 15 to 2 and the second, 9 to 5.

Boston hammered Aitchison and Schmutz at will in the first contest, while Crutcher held the locals safe throughout.

The second game was close until the ninth, when, with Brooklyn one run ahead, Whitted won the game for Boston by driving out a home run with the bases full. Ragan had struck the side out in the eighth on nine pitched balls, but he blew up in the ninth. Scores:

yesterday after putting on some ex-

Barney is to hurry back to Los An-

he would rather win the "desert

possible exception of the 100-mile race on the Indianapolis speedway, the in-

PLANS FOR THE "MISSION PLAY."

EUGENIA DEL VALLE TO HEAD THE COMPANY.

Hobart Bosworth Tries a New System of Taking Indoor Moving Pictures at Night—Mr. Tally Takes Over Another Film Theater for the Paramount Pictures.

BY GRACE KINGSLAY.

The "Mission Play" of John McGroarty doesn't come out of its summer quarters this season until January 31, when the historic piece will run continuously in the big theater at San Gabriel, until October 4, 1915. Performances are to be held every afternoon and two nights a week.

Certain scenes of the play have been elaborated. There are to be some new dances to perform the gay and stately Spanish dances; also there is to be a big chorus of trained voices to sing the Spanish love songs and hymns; and there are to be thirty Indians from the San Luis Rey Mission, and twenty additional children in the cast, descendants of the San Diego Indians.

Bells, fountains and ancient pictures from many of the old California missions have been added to the collection of ancient trophies in the big theater, and another year of growth has added to the beauty of the garden.

Miss Lucretia Del Valle and Mr. Osbourne are the only members of the cast so far selected. The rest of the players will be chosen early in January, when rehearsals will commence. Miss Del Valle and Mr. Osbourne are most happily chosen for the leading parts, Miss Del Valle's ancestors being among the early California settlers, and Mr. Osbourne having been born aboard his father's ship just as it entered Golden Gate.

Many offers for moving pictures of the "Mission Play" have been made Mr. McGroarty, but he firmly refuses to listen to any offer of the kind.

Percy Chapman of the Empress hasn't enough "winning widows" on his staff. He is advertising for another girl. No culls need apply. And now, though the word only went out by wireless yesterday, by last night the line of beauties at the stage door made the common or garden variety of young women walking down Spring street look like the Monday morning washday's parade. Percy is hard to suit if he doesn't find another willing widow before the week is out.

Last night, at the Majestic, the Hobart Bosworth Company tried out with good effect the new lighting system, known as the actinic rays, using as lights of 300,000 candle power, which produce the effect of blinding sunlight. This system is calculated to revolutionize the taking of moving pictures interiors. Heretofore interiors in moving pictures have all been exteriors, that is, built on outdoor stages.

The play staged last night was a theater scene from "Paleo Colors," by Lois Weber, and produced by Phillips Smalley. Three hundred extra people are used in the scenes, as well as orchestra and ushers, making the pay roll $1000 a week.

The play will be shown at Tally's theater in the near future.

Dick de Loris is a misplaced matinee idol. He's the original little cowboy corner runner. "Cap," the doorman at the Empress, reports the young man deluged with cash notes. "What do you do with these girls when you leave?" he asked De Loris the other day.

"Why, I turn 'em over to the prop man!"

Last night was Elmer's night at the Empress Theater, and a great herd of the good people witnessed the performance of "Let's Get Married."

Since his return from New York, Manager Moreno has had the first opportunity of the year to enjoy his beautiful beach home at Playa del Rey.

Mr. Tally has added another to his fleet of moving picture theaters. The Symphony is now on his list, in a deal consummated yesterday with C. H. DuBois, proprietor. Mr. Tally will run the Paramount pictures in his new house.

In the "Pursuit of the Phantom," at Tally's, Mr. Bosworth, as the artist here, paints two pictures. He really did it, too, and the paintings are hanging in the lobby of Tally's Broadway this week.

Cartoonist Randall, at the Hip this week, confesses he is up against it. He tried to make a composite picture of the warring monarchs of Europe. He got away with the pompadour heads of England and Russia, the military moustache of Germany and the whiskers of Austria, but was stuck with the bald head of France. Funny part of the whole thing is that the composite looks like Andrew Carnegie, the great peace advocate!

A jolly gathering of the photo-players can take place at the Photo-players' gallery on Friday night, when Charles Cary and Eugene Bessner were the guests of honor.

An interesting feature of the evening was a talk on the "Career of Dagblad," by Richard Vincent, globe-trotter and local business man.

Kitty Gordon's "Pink Nightgown" has been given to the vaudeville manager. It didn't suit Chicago vaudeville managers, and has been withdrawn. When Kitty appears at the Orpheum here it will be in some other artistic vestiture.

George Jean Nathan, dramatic editor of Smart Set, admits he wrote the William J. Burns film now running at the Mason. He says that at any rate the play may be saved the following "Comedy relief" mispronunciations. Interviews in the newspapers, inquest over 40, inquest under 40, evening coats with velvet collars, perfect dramatic technique, "bright" lines, gilt furniture and a speech by the author.

"The Man From Home," adopted by Mr. DeMille, the Leaky director, from Booth Tarkington's play of that name, with Charles Richmond in the lead, was exhibited for the first time a couple of evenings ago at the Leaky studio. There are some marvelous Siberian scenes, the Sorcerer scenes and others of beauty and interest.

WHITE OUTBOXES.

STANLEY YOKUM.

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)

KENOSHA (Wya.) Oct. 5.—Charles White of Chicago, lightweight, had the better of it all the way through a ten-round boxing match with Stanley Yockum of Denver tonight.

Helen Wolcott,

Appearing in "Pursuit of the Phantom" at Tally's Broadway this week.

Up to Date.

Y.M.C.A. HAS A WORLD'S SERIES ALL OF ITS OWN.

INTEREST in the world's baseball series, always keen at the Young Men's Christian Association, this year runs to a high pitch by reason of the returns by direct wire furnished by the courtesy of The Times, to be displayed by bulletin, and especially on account of the baseball membership contest between the "Boston" and "Philadelphia" teams occurring at the same time as the national contest.

G. C. Audet, hailing from the home of the Braves, is championing the cause of the home team and has already rallied many supporters to the side of Boston in the membership contest.

He was a member of the Boston association before the big building discovered a lively rooting section to pull for the Boston team.

F. Arthur Cardwell, vice-chairman of the Committee of Management, is equally enthusiastic over the chances of the Philadelphia Athletics, to whose colors he is gathering every day supporters who claim that they will defeat the Bostonians without any trouble.

Mr. Cardwell has been in business for twelve years in Los Angeles, having participated in the building, extension and various financial and membership campaigns of the association.

The two captains will marshal their forces on Tuesday night at dinner when Charlie Van Loan, the famous baseball writer for the Saturday Evening Post, and Ben Berry, owner of the Los Angeles baseball club, will be present.

During the dinner the real "dope" on the world's series will be given by these two baseball experts and the rules of the membership contest, batting orders, umpire and other details will be agreed upon by the opposing teams. E. C. Lyon will act as toastmaster.

The returns by wire are received from the east the local membership returns will also be posted in the building. The two teams will lunch daily, beginning Thursday until the close of the contest, with reports at noon.

The object of the contest is to make use of the interest in baseball to bring the advantages of the Young Men's Christian Association to every man and boy in Los Angeles.

The boys are having a contest of their own, the plans for which were launched at a big banquet of 150 boys Friday night at the association's athletic field clubhouse.

Special attention is directed to the opening of the educational, gymnastic and other classes just beginning their season's work. V. S. Martin, membership secretary, has arranged open house programmes for men every night of the campaign.

against the Santa Fe team at San Bernardino Saturday came out of the fray in good shape despite the fact that they weighed less than 150 stripped and were up against a team of the 165 caliber.

Cunningham said this morning when asked about the game: "In general I was not disappointed. I had seven men who had never been in the American game before. The team was light. But the tackling was too high, my back field men ran too high, the interference was ragged, the line was weak, and the boys did not play the pass well. By next Saturday we will try to remedy these defects and give U.S.C. the hardest game she has had."

REDLANDS, Oct. 5.—Coach Cunningham is holding closed practice this week at the University of Redlands. Plays to be used against U.S.C. Saturday were given out tonight, and will be drilled into the team until the last minute. The men who played

ROBINSON IS A WORLD-BEATER.

Michigan Sprinter May Be Another Craig.

Set Great Marks While Mere Schoolboy.

Can't Compete Until Spring of 1916.

When the spring of 1916 rolls around Albert S. Robinson is expected to take his place in the long line of sprinters that have made Michigan feared on the cinder paths.

He will not be able to run for Michigan in any big meets except the Penn relay games until his sophomore year, but when he does, under the handling of Steve Farrell, he is going to be worth just exactly two firsts at the intercollegiate games.

In his way he is a rarity. He was a finished runner before he completed his prep school course. With one year of school still to go he was credited with a mark of 23.4-5 in the 220-yard dash and 9-4-5 in the 100-yard dash. Neither of these marks has been allowed by the A.A.U., but the fact that the watches got him shows that he was fast even then.

Last year, with Goetz as his teammate, he was part of a two-man track team of Keweenaw academy. The two went around the country and "cleaned up." But for peculiar wording of a rule governing the Michigan inter-

the first game of the series from Brooklyn today, 4 to 3. Tom Seaton was taken out in the fifth inning after Buffalo had scored three runs. In the eighth Brooklyn tied the score.

Fred Anderson won his game in the last of the ninth, however, when he scored Young on a single to center. Score:

The 1915 committee last Thursday to find a legal way out of the dilemma, met yesterday morning at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce assembly-room and examined the transcript of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors, occurring at the meeting in which the proposition to levy the 6-cent tax was disclosed by the transcript, convinced the committee that the Supervisors supposed they were providing the entertainment fund and were acting according to law. The only way out of the peculiar situation was to secure unanimous consent on the part of the Supervisors to change the levy from 6 cents to 4 cents and 2 cents. The Supervisors were seen, and each one said he would support such a resolution. The resolution was offered by Supervisor Hinchshaw, seconded by Capt. Manning, and the five Supervisors voted "aye," including Mr. Norton.

Under the 2-cent levy the sum of $128,433.08 will be available for advertising and exploiting and making known the resources of the county. The sum of $276,866.16 will be raised under the 4-cent tax for exposition purposes. While the 1915 General Committee will expend the money and make all contracts, every demand must be approved by the Supervisors before payment. Members of the 1915 Committee are jubilant at the outcome. Chairman Motley H. Flint declared last night that the work of making Los Angeles city-county the most attractive city in the world in

WHEN HIS AIM MISSED.
The poor aim of S. S. Rayford of No. 891 Santa Fe avenue, a restaurant-keeper, in pitching an ignited match, cost him severe burns on his arms and face early yesterday morning. He aimed the match at a sink but it dropped into a pile of greasy rags. The flames crept up the side of an oil can. To save an explosion and his restaurant, he caught up the can to fling it out of the window. He was not quick enough. The can exploded. Rayford rolled on the floor and extinguished the fire on his clothing.

main in the air. So far it has amounted to little but rumors and talk, but nevertheless one or two informal meetings have been held with a view to feeling out the possibilities for organizing another local bourse.

The plan as contemplated on this occasion is the formation of a sort of curb market, on which will be listed a number of the stocks on the present exchange, and other securities. The brokers are said to be principally interested in the project. There are also a few members of the local exchange who are in the movement, owing to the fact that they are dissatisfied with the suspended market.

Several times in the past few years, new exchanges have been projected, but the efforts have generally been unsuccessful.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Miami Coper Company deferred action to today on the question of paying a dividend, which was in sympathy with a 24-cent raise in San Francisco. The local market is lower than in New York, but by the time the dividend is paid it is expected to continue cheaper than in six or eight years. Local reported receipts were 1,000 tons, but it is probable that by auto truck, it is probable that the receipts aggregated 250 cars.
